GENERAL NEWS.

Serious Railroad Accident on the Miami Road in Ohio.

PRESIDENT JARRETT ADVISES THE STRIKERS TO GO TO WORK.

An Illinois Country Bank President Absconds with all his Neighbors' Money. Crop Reports from Various Sections.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

[illegible] July 24 — [illegible] banker [illegible] for a week past, and yesterday [illegible] an announcement [illegible] posted on the doors. A large and excited crowd [illegible] others who had [illegible] deposits collected around the bank and made serious threats against the persons of its officers unless [illegible] were immediately admitted and allowed to examine the affairs of the concern. A committee was finally allowed to make an investigation, and after examination reported liabilities of the bank about $60,000 [illegible] estimated at $3,000. This is believed to be an exaggeration, and it is thought depositors will receive a very small part of their funds. The whereabouts of Willard is unknown. [illegible] and other [illegible] the failure.

Railroad Accident.

CINCINNATI, July 24 — A collision occurred yesterday on the Little Miami railroad near Foster's crossing, [illegible] between the express [illegible] and a freight train. The account given by passengers is that the freight was [illegible] and had orders to stop at Foster's [illegible] the express to pass, but the engineer undertook to pass the switch and then back in when the express train came on. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping. The engines were wrecked and two freight cars thrown into the Little Miami river. Among the passengers slightly injured were E. H. McCulloch of New Orleans, [illegible] general [illegible]; J. W. [illegible] of New York; D. W. [illegible] of Pittsburg; J. W. Jones of Columbus, Ohio, and Engineer Lyons of the freight, badly bruised.

A Narrow Escape.

CANTON JUNCTION, Mass., July 24.—Last evening the lightning express from Boston, on the Providence road, was thrown on a side track by a misplaced switch. The train was going at the rate of fifty-five miles an hour, and the cars were turned partially on their sides and passengers thrown in a heap in the aisles. Just as the flying train passed the station the tilting drawing room cars struck a baggage car on the other track, and this alone prevented the train from going completely over and causing a frightful accident. As the cars were crowded, when the train partially righted brakes were applied and the train brought to a standstill. No one was seriously injured.

Loss by Accident.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Officials of the Chicago and Alton railroad having investigated the accident near Bloomington, state the loss by the accident will be inside of $63,100. Engines were not much injured, and the chief damage was by fire. One car of tallow, one of wool, two of wheat and one of canned salmon were destroyed. No one was injured except brakeman Foster, who was found dead under the caboose, terribly mangled.

Killed on the Track.

DENVER, July 24.—The Republican's Walsenburg (Colorado) special says: This morning two miners, Wm. Holmes and James Watchman, returning home in an intoxicated condition, were run over by a train. Holmes was instantly killed and Watchman badly injured. The men were laying down on the track.

Miss Parnell's Funeral.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., July 24.—The funeral of Miss Fannie Parnell this morning was largely attended by residents of the city and vicinity, and trains from New York and Philadelphia brought members from different land league organizations. A harp at the head of the casket bore the following inscription: "Cede Deo." A white satin pillow with a harp at the head had in it a quotation from her last poem—"The utterance of the Irish heart." Services were very impressive.

The Charmer nearly Ready to Sail.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The ship Charmer, hence for San Francisco May 28th, and which returned having been on fire, has been completely repaired and is now receiving her cargo and will again sail on the 29th inst., on which date the North American will sail from Boston. It is understood that several wagers have been made on the result of the passage.

American Schooner Lost.

CALAIS, Maine, July 24.—Captain Malch, of the Eastport fishing schooner Abigail, telegraphs from Annapolis that a U. S. schooner foundered in the Bay of Fundy Friday night. Crew safe. Within a few days the owners have heard the schooner was the Digby, Capt. Sulling. Cargo owners suspect that the schooner was purposely scuttled.

Defaulter Captured.

WAPAKONETA, Ohio, July 24.—Sheriff Disroth arrived to-day with Heinrich, defaulting ex-treasurer of Auglaize county, whom he captured in Cheyenne. Heinrich entered recognizance in the sum of $13,000 to appear for trial.

Jarrett's Advice.

PITTSBURG, July 24.—President Jarrett, of the amalgamated association, says when the committee from Cleveland strikers arrive here to-morrow he will instruct them to accept the proposition of the Cleveland rolling mill company and go to work.

Keifer a Competitor.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Times' Cleveland: Logan county has given Gen. Robert Kennedy a square send off in his congressional contest against Speaker Keifer, having backed him with 32 votes in her primary elections.

SPORTING NOTES.

A Match to be Arranged with Sullivan.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Special from New York: Richard K. Fox, Tug Wilson's backer, writes in response to the advertisement by Madden in behalf of Sullivan: "In regard to matching Tug Wilson to fight Sullivan for the championship of the world, I have to say my money is ready, providing Madden will agree the fight shall take place at a place where both men will receive fair play, and there will be no fizzle. At the time I was matching Paddy Ryan to fight his protege for the championship of the world he would not agree to any other battle ground but New Orleans, or within a hundred miles of that city. Being anxious to have the battle decided without any interference, I allowed Madden and Sullivan their own way, rather than have the sporting public deluded, and the result was that the battle was decided without any trouble. I am willing to match Tug Wilson to fight Sullivan on the same conditions, because I know there is every prospect of the pugilists being allowed to fight on the Mississippi. If this does not suit, I will allow my representative E. Harding to name three places where a battle can be decided, and I am willing that Harry Hill be final stake holder, the referee to be mutually agreed upon. I will give Harding my check for say $1000 on Monday, and he will meet Madden at Harry Hill's on Monday night, at 8 o'clock, to arrange a match under my instructions."

A Bruiser's Challenge.

MILWAUKEE, July 24.—John Donaldson has issued the following challenge: "I hereby challenge any man in America, except John L. Sullivan—Tug Wilson preferred—to fight me with or without gloves, for $5,000 a side, the fight to take place within 500 miles of Milwaukee, and within six weeks from date. Articles signed." Mr. Donaldson will be remembered as the man who stood before Sullivan's sledge-hammer blows longer than any other man has succeeded in doing, and possesses the confidence of the sporting fraternity of Milwaukee, who, it is understood, are ready with plenty of money to back him.

THE LIME-KILN CLUB.

Everybody, High and Low, Rich and Poor, Lies.

Detroit Free Press.

"Who am a liar?" asked the old man as he rose up in his usual place and glared around him.

Pickles Smith, Trustee Pullback, Samuel Shinn and Evergreen Jones started and turned pale, and there was a deathlike silence as Brother Gardner continued:

"An' what shall we do wid him—wid de liar an' de liars? De liar am wid us an' of us an' among us. He gits up wid us in de mawnin' an' he lies down wid us at night. Go to de grocery, an' de grocer smiles an' nods an' lies. Go to de dry goods man, an' he has a welcome an' a lie. De tailor promises a suit when he knows he can't finish it. De shoemaker promises a pair of butes for Saturday when he has three days work on de nex' week. De ice man charges us wid twenty-five pounds an' delivers sixteen. Our carpets am warranted, an' yet dey fade. De plumber plumbs an' lies. De painter paints an' lies. De carpenter planes an' saws an' cheats. De dressmaker not only lies but steals de cloth. We all lie like troopers fifty times a day, an' de man who won't lie doan stan' any show.

"An' yet, my frens, what will we bring up in de end? When Waydown Bebee axes me fur de loan of a dollar till Saturday he lies. He knows he can't pay it back under fo' weeks. I know he knows it an' I lie. I tell him jist paid out de last shillin' for a wash b'iler an' can't possibly raise a [illegible]. If I ax Judge Hostetter Jackson to sign a bank note wid me he lies when he says he promised his dyin' gran'mudder nebber to do so. We lie when we wear better clo'se dan we kin afford—when we put on airs above us—when we put on our backs what orter be fodder for our stomachs. We has become a real [illegible] ahead dust [illegible] but we has also become a nashun of liars, cheats and false pretenders. We adulterate our goods, cheat in weight, sell [illegible] to measure and put up br [illegible] to hide de absence of dollar shirts. Our society am full of false pretenders, our religion furnishes a cloak for hypocrites, and our charity am [illegible] high soundin' name for makin' a dollar bring back ten shillings. [illegible]

"[illegible] Let us all begin jist whar it hurts [illegible]."

Waydown Bebee arose [illegible] borrowed a dollar of the president [illegible] return it on the date specified.

"You has [illegible]," was the prompt reply.

Waydown scratched his head [illegible] to break his fall, and finally sat down with [illegible] creeping over his [illegible].

What Arabi Bey Represents.

New York World.

Whatever else may be said for or against Arabi Bey, it is at least certain that he represents the revolt of the Egyptian people against the government of their country by a foreign joint receivership in the interest of its foreign creditors.

SHEPHERD REDIVIVUS.

The Long Ten Sermons of the Peruvian Company [illegible].

[illegible] Blaine [illegible] intriguing [illegible] Secretary Blaine [illegible] in the most essential points. Hurlbut's [illegible] the president had received Shipherd's letter on the subject and referred it to the secretary of state. Shipherd is particularly severe on [illegible] testifying [illegible] Shipherd's testimony. [illegible] Blaine [illegible] Shipherd's [illegible] testimony. He denies [illegible] that [illegible] his first [illegible] Blaine's fallible memory. He dismisses Robert Christy as a witness even if his letters submitted by Blaine were pertinent to the issue, and finally breaks out with the ex [illegible] to meet in detail half of Blaine's inventions. He takes up the testimony of J. H. Flimers and proceeds to show how easily this little man lies. He introduces several documents, [illegible] this Shipherd then reviews the correspondence between Blaine and Evarts, [illegible] which Blaine introduced to show that Evarts disclaimed knowing Shipherd and never gave him legal advice. He explains that Evarts had [illegible] conversation in the Cochet claim given the opinion referred to. He does not wonder that Evarts had forgotten it. He submits an affidavit of Jas. Montgomery, vice president of the Palace Car company of New York incorporation. Shipherd declared that Blaine, as usual, [illegible] at his head and determined to frown down the Peruvian company when Hurlbut raised the cry of fraud. He finally refers to the sudden lapses of memory which he says seized on the secretary of state, bankers, editors, senators and others, and says there was a regular stampede. He criticises White law Reid's forgetfulness and produces a letter from him wishing Shipherd all success. He says if Hurlbut was upright and honorable and received from me an offer of a bribe of a quarter of a million to corrupt his official action, and made no response of scorn and rebuff to me, and gave no warning to his government nor the public for five months, and during that time kept up a continuous correspondence with me, the whole tenor of which was to assure me he would gladly co-operate with me, and even begged me to secure special instructions conformable to my wishes to be cabled, and also wrote Blaine and Boutwell to same effect, what shall we say of him?

Shipherd casts considerable doubt upon ex-Secretary Blaine's declaration that certain documents which were presented to President Garfield never came to his (Blaine's) notice, and says this legally raises a strong presumption against Blaine. He points out what he calls numerous contradictions in Blaine's own testimony, and in fact devotes some 40 of the 83 pages in criticising, attacking and denouncing Blaine in his method of testimony. Some space is devoted to [illegible] in various witnesses against Shipherd contradict themselves, their record and their truth. Shipherd gives the names of those prominent [illegible] whom he relied on as [illegible] and the circumstances that led him to rely on them.

He says when a letter of the highest privilege, confidential to a minister plenipotentiary, who came to me from President Garfield direct to ask that I would organize a company upon the plan which the president himself honored, I saw when a letter of the highest privilege, confidential in effect to the president [illegible] to his high command was [illegible] to the whole world, and in it appeared the names of eminent capitalists, [illegible] and citizens, and when I advised the president that I would do as he requested it only for the executive administration. If this great property [illegible] happened that the general stampede was at its height. Not a soul dared venture out in such a storm. [illegible] was the cry, and almost with no exception every man whose name was found in the most horrible list of its kind ever [illegible] was horrified at the impudence which had dared to put it there. [illegible] because the gentleman in question himself took such pains to bring his name to public notice. I only propose to send this correspondence. This testimony [illegible] on the mental weakness or [illegible] of veracity of Blaine than any thing else, and is evidently conceived in revenge for Blaine's hard words to him. It is quite different in tone from Shipherd's story as given before Blaine had testified.

THE TURF.

English Sporting Events.

Herald's London: In the race for the Goodwood cup next Friday Foxhall, carrying 1?? pounds, will be opposed by Fiddler, carrying 129 pounds, and Tristan with 122 pounds. Tristan has improved so much that if he can defeat the American representative at such great advantage in weight it will not be a disgrace to Foxhall. An equally interesting feature in the struggle will be the fight between Foxhall and Fiddler, although there are only three pounds difference as compared with five pounds at Ascot, when the Duke of Hamilton's horse won. He has many admirers, but Foxhall may turn the tables on him. At all events, whatever may happen it is a contest which should be one of the most interesting cup races seen in England for many years. While admitting that it is asking an animal to do a great deal in giving Tristan ten pounds, many hope to see Foxhall accomplish it successfully, as he would undoubtedly have done over this course last year. With Gerald and Sachem as the best three year olds that can represent America at the dual meeting this week there is not much hope for either, as they are over weighted in handicaps and both Dutchman and Battlefield appear to hold their safely in weight for age races. The first-named has become a terribly impetuous customer, but should she take it into her head to run kindly she would fit for the best laid schemes, as she possesses a really terrific turn of speed, but it would be difficult to fairly hold her together. It is announced that Golden Gate and General Scott will be struck out of the Goodwood stakes. Both Empress and Lorilard's two year olds will fulfill their engagements.

St. Julien's Lameness.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Orrin A. Hickock's celebrated trotter St. Julien, has a bad leg and is in care of a veterinary surgeon. It was by the latter's advice he was not started in the race with Trinket last Thursday. The surgeon expressed the belief that with a let up from work he will come around all right in a short time. There is little hope, however, that he will be able to appear in the great trotting circuit.

SARATOGA, July 24.—Dwyer Bros.' well known race horse Runnymede broke down hopelessly in the tendon of the hind leg yesterday.

THE WAR IN EGYPT.

HE HAS 200 GUNS PLANTED READY FOR AN ATTACK.

The Water Supply of Alexandria Growing Scarce. Skirmish with the Outposts at Ramleh. France to take no Action in the War.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

Yesterday the Bitterns [illegible] of the Bittern the men set out to [illegible] there was a large number [illegible] start [illegible] on the carriage door [illegible]

The Khedive's Proclamation.

[illegible] the khedive's proclamation:

Arabi Pasha—In consequence of your departure [illegible] Kafr el Dwar accompanied by the army [illegible] abandoning Alexandria [illegible] railway traffic, preventing us from receiving telegrams and communications through the post office and impeding return of refugees to their homes in Alexandria and your persistence in war preparations and in [illegible] receiving orders, I dismiss you from the office of the minister of war.

The khedive also issued the following circular to the admiral:

On perusing the order for dismissal of Arabi Pasha from the office of minister of war, it will be with great [illegible] his dismissal. Henceforward he will have no authority over you, and whoever [illegible] and movements will [illegible] punished. Whosoever shall [illegible] remuneration. You cannot be aware the country is surrounded with dangers, and [illegible] the powers have agreed on Turkish intervention for restoration of the country without [illegible] the privilege of firmans granted to Egypt. I am convinced you will conform yourselves to my orders, which cannot have any object other than the welfare of the country. He who obeys my orders will be rewarded; he who does not, will have to blame himself on being punished.

THE KHEDIVE, at the palace.

It is certain Arabi will destroy Cairo unless defeated and captured. In reply to a proclamation of the khedive Arabi appointed a ministry of his own at Cairo. Preparations are made to attack Aboukir, and Arabi is moving part of his forces in that direction. Dispatches for Arabi brought by embargoed mail steamers were seized. It is stated two of Arabi's colonels acting as spies entered the city disguised as dervishes. The khedive has requested a steamer to proceed to Dulcigno to fetch 2000 Albanians to act as his body guard. Ministers have opposed the project, refusing to provide money therefor.

Gen. Allison's Movement.

An Alexandria correspondent gives the following account of the movement of Maj. Gen. Allison in the direction of Arabi Pasha's intrenchments: A company of engineers started first in the train with gun cotton and mining tools with the object of blowing up the railway and isthmus between Arabi's center and Alexandria, thus preventing him attacking us any other way than straight before the Rosetta gate, where men were very strong. Six companies of infantry, 40 mounted infantry and a company of rifles followed. As soon as we replied to the Egyptian fire Arabi took to shelter. The latter were anxious to stop the work, but were afraid to advance. After the engineers had worked an hour, [illegible] a single nine-pounder [illegible] followed by [illegible]. The isthmus was divided, rails severed, and the work of our force was then returned to Alexandria. After the fight was over and we had retired, Arabi advanced on the Alexandria waterworks just outside the lines and sent word that he intended to blow down the place, but having altered his mind, he fired his men and sacked part of Ramleh during the retreat. We lost nobody during the skirmish. The enemy's loss is unknown. Arabi reports that Arabi has three lines of intrenchments strongly armed with artillery. An Egyptian officer with the [illegible] has been arrested. An Egyptian tribunal sentenced two looters to death.

7 P. M.—Arabi is now fighting another [illegible] skirmish. Our scouts report that his cavalry are in Ramleh.

Arabi's Strength Increasing.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Herald's Alexandria: Last night five hundred of Arabi's cavalry with one gun raided through Ramleh and rode between the English outposts. They came boldly to the water works and then retired. At five o'clock this morning five thousand Nubians with eight guns marched to Aboukir under Abdallah Pasha, and immediately began to construct earthworks. Arabi has two hundred guns mounted in earthworks between Mahallah and Kafar El Dwar. Stone Pasha assured me that unless England acts with at least forty thousand troops she will meet with a Bull Run. There is no doubt that had five thousand men landed immediately after the bombardment, burning and looting would have been prevented. The electric light established in the forts last night illuminated the country for miles.

The First Skirmish.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—Arabi Pasha occupies an extended line from Marsotis to Aboukir. His force is estimated at 7000. The first skirmish lasted an hour. One or two English were hit and several Egyptians seen to fall. Arabi is again advancing.

British Occupy Ramleh.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24—8:30 P. M.—Fighting is finished and casualties are insignificant. British remain in occupation of Ramleh. Two of the deputation appointed by the notables have arrived and report Arabi, on learning that troops were dispatched from India to Egypt, sent 9000 men to Cairo.

The Situation at Port Said.

LONDON, July 24.—A dispatch from Port Said says DeLesseps arrived Saturday, accompanied by an aide, [illegible] up of the khedive. There are 17 war vessels of different nationalities in the harbor, five English under Rear Admiral Hoskins and five French under Admiral Conrad. The latter has consented to assist the English in keeping order in the town and protecting lives and property of Europeans. In the event of an outbreak the French say they are prepared to land 600 men and the English can land 400. Rear Admiral Hoskins sent a message through the governor to the commander of the troops saying he will hold him responsible for any disturbance, and if he cannot keep order the admiral will. The commander is said to have declined to take the responsibility unless he is allowed to bring more troops from Damietta. The town continues to swarm with refugees from Cairo and the interior, who bring most terrible accounts of massacre at Tantah, Damietta and elsewhere. Rear Admiral Hoskins has written the English consul at Cairo urging him to impress upon British subjects the necessity of leaving Egypt at once.

Arabi's Threats against the Porte.

A dispatch from Constantinople says there is reason to believe Arabi Pasha has sent a species of ultimatum to the sultan declaring he is acting to save Islam from infidels, and giving the sultan notice if the porte sends troops to co-operate with unbelievers he will fight them and proclaim the Shereef of Mecca caliph. It is believed here Arabi's threat [illegible] to depose the house of Osman and proclaim a Jesuit ruler in its place.

A dispatch from Rome says it is stated in diplomatic circles there that the porte has sent circular letters to the powers asking them to dissuade England [illegible] in pushing on hostilities pending negotiations.

Egyptian War Notes.

LONDON, July 24.—A dispatch from Alexandria this evening says the troop ship Malabar with 1108 men and a battery of artillery has arrived.

According to latest news from Cairo there are 8000 starving, homeless persons camping in Leheeh (sic) [illegible] a great scarcity prevailing among them.

It is rumored French marines were disembarked at Port Said, but it is impossible to verify the rumor, there being no telegraphic communication.

Arabi Pasha yesterday massed [illegible] with a [illegible] gun at the pumping station of Ramleh water works. It is supposed his intention is to destroy the station.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—Another Christian was placed on the rails and an engine run to and fro over his body.

Arabi is flooding the country in front of his intrenchments to provide for the civil population.

The chief engineer of the Bittern has been placed in charge of the steamer of the cotton works, which with five boilers and two tanks he hopes to be able to [illegible] one hundred tons of water daily from [illegible] brackish water.

PARIS, July 24.—DeFreycinet, president of the council, conferring with a committee of the senate on naval credit, declared that if the powers failed to decide [illegible] intervention in Egypt, France maintained neutral in the [illegible] intervention [illegible] powers [illegible] Egypt. Turkish Troops to be Sent.

The Times says the question of Turkish intervention is practically decided by the fact that an expedition is about to be sent without demurring. [illegible] Malta or Gibraltar.

The authorities have decided not to send militia to garrison Malta or Gibraltar.

Europeans Tortured.

An eye witness from Tantah states that Europeans were tortured, disemboweled and cut to pieces, and that women were violated and tortured. Soldiers participated in the atrocities. Arabi Pasha's new government has issued a proclamation stating that every native [illegible] Christians will be shot. It is believed this is a mere form to cover them selves should they hereafter fall into our hands.

Working for Water.

The staff of the water works is hard at work cleaning out Roman cisterns for storage of water. It is a race between the falling level of the canal and the dauntless energy of engineers of the English. If only water enough can be stored to tide over another month the Nile inundation will probably sweep away Arabi's dyke or rush around it, and all will be well.

There is enough water, if carefully used, for three weeks.

The Alexandria Riot Accidental.

Rear Admiral Nicholson, commanding the European station, makes a report to the navy department upon the state of affairs at Alexandria, Egypt, under date of July 5. He says the riot on the 11th of June was certainly accidental.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Czar's Coronation.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A Herald's cable from St. Petersburg says: After having been ten times countermanded the preparations for the coronation of the czar are being actively pushed forward. The ceremony will positively take place at the end of August. Sovereigns will only be represented by envoys extraordinary and not by their relatives. The emperor of Russia has been influenced in fixing the date of the coronation for August by certain professional feelings of the party of the Grand Duke Constantine, who were beginning to develop their views on [illegible] phrase [illegible] sovereign as frequently to be heard. "I faced in the alternative of either losing his life or his crown the czar prefers to expose the first and save both." No one pretends that the emperor will proceed to the coronation with the intention of giving a constitution and proclaiming amnesty. Those who know his character say that his only sentiment will be that of anger. We may soon expect in Russia grave events, for at the sound of the first revolutionary cannon that's fired Germany, without any preliminary form whatever, will occupy the Baltic provinces and then annex them. This has been told and repeated to the emperor by a number of well informed people.

A British Growl.

LONDON, July 24.—The Times says: The license that American criminal laws allow to dynamite projectors is a scandal and shame to American legislation. A more enormous scandal is the attitude which public opinion in America assumes toward them. Never was there a national opinion so [illegible] sensitive and keen, which could have shown itself more feeble and inert in defense of public morality than opinion in America since the dynamite school became so notorious. Americans must determine if they continue to be subject to this reproach.

Dillon's Plan.

LONDON, July 24.—John Dillon, speaking at Mallow, said if sixty honest members were returned to parliament to support Parnell they would render the repression of crime bill inoperative. For every man arrested under the bill they would waste two days in the house of commons, and when they were enabled to understand the workings of land corporations they would organize such machinery as to defeat it.

Obstruction to Land Corporations.

Parnell and other home rule members of parliament have formed a committee to organize a public movement in Ireland with a view of counteracting operations of the land corporations. Davitt has consented to co-operate in the scheme.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 24.

In senate to-day Logan asked leave to have his bill reconstructing the law so as to allow Chinese laborers to pass through the United States en route to China referred to the judiciary committee.

Chair remarked that the senator from California (Miller) intended to debate the proposed reference and Logan withdrew his request.

Allison presented the conference report on the legislative appropriation bill and explained the only disagreements were upon the sixth section for transfer of records of the surgeon general's office and distribution of rooms in the new war building. Senate voted to insist upon its disagreement and ordered a new conference. Allison, Dawes and Davis (West Virginia) were appointed.

Morrill moved to consider the revenue bill. Agreed to. The pending amendment reduces the tobacco tax to 8 cents per pound.

House.

Motion to reconsider the vote by which yeas and nays were ordered upon Tucker's amendment as agreed to 91 to 78, and Kelly moved to recommit the bill, but it went over.

Payson and Knott presented views of the minority judiciary committee upon the Northern Pacific land grant. After some discussion on a motion of Townsend to have this report placed on the calendar the speaker decided the views of the minority had no parliamentary status, and ruled the motion out. Cox's appeal was tabled, 97 to 70. Bliss and Morse voted aye with republicans and Payson with democrats. Minority report was ordered printed and laid on table.

Speaker announced regular order was the bill to allow a drawback on foreign material used in connection with domestic materials in construction of steam and sail vessels for foreign account, and the pending amendment was Tucker's, extending its provisions to construction of vessels for [illegible] account. He ruled out Kelley's motion to recommit.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Nicaragua Canal Bill to be Postponed until Next Session.

A CHANGE MADE IN THE JAPANESE MISSION AT WASHINGTON.

Senatorial Laziness Complained of as Delaying Needed Legislation. Extensive Preparations for Printing Census Reports.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—In spite of the pressure that is [illegible] brought to bear by the enemies of [illegible] push the Nicaragua canal bill, it is [illegible] that any attempt will be made by them [illegible] bring it up this session. The Pacific coast representatives in the house are urging calling up of the measure at as early a date as possible, [illegible] committee [illegible] the [illegible] that it shall go over till next session. A prominent member of the committee is authority for the statement that it is the desire of the committee to postpone further action on the bill until at least so that it may have the benefit of a full discussion during the congressional [illegible].

Senatorial Listlessness.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Senate continues consideration of the internal revenue bill to-day. If senators [illegible] hold a night session and work in [illegible] this bill can be passed by Tuesday evening. [illegible] the contrary the lazy indifference that is the usual characteristic of senate work prevails, it will not be disposed of until the end of the week. Every day that passes renders the adoption of the revenue bill by both houses this session more uncertain, and consequently imperils the passage of the land grant bill, which is the next measure in order after the revenue bill is disposed of. Senator Sherman said to-day that he [illegible] to the adoption of his amendment reducing the tax on tobacco to eight cents, but he feared several democrats would vote with a majority of republicans against it.

Reduction in Cost of Star Service.

In response to an application from government's counsel in the star route cases, Second Assistant Postmaster General Elmer has prepared a statement of the cost of star route mail service for the fiscal years 1878 to 1882 inclusive in the states of Louisiana, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Oregon, Nevada and California and the territories of Dakota, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho and Washington. The annual cost at present is $2,018,635. This table covers one contract term and half of the preceding term. The previous contract term ended June 30, 1878, when the cost was $2,944,049. The new term begins on the following day—July 1, 1878. One year afterwards the cost had been raised by Brady to $5,867,566, and at the end of the second year of the term another million had been added. The term of four years ended June 30, 1882, and on that day the annual cost was only $[illegible], owing to reductions made by [illegible] administrations. The next term began July 1, 1882, and its annual cost is only $2,018,000, while service to the same states and territories at the height of Brady's administration cost $1,?,691,847.

Society Gossip.

Mrs. H. F. Page, with her little daughter Miss Pearl, is on a visit to Mrs. Deslondorf, wife of the member from Norfolk, Virginia district, and will return in time to join her husband at adjournment of congress, for their California home.

It will be pleasant news for the many friends of Mrs. Pacheco, wife of ex-Gov. Pacheco, from California, to hear that she is rapidly convalescing at Bloomfield, N. J., where she went with her lovely young daughter a few weeks ago.

Change of Japanese Ministers.

The Post announces this morning that Yoshida Kiyonari, present minister from Japan, who has been absent from Washington on leave for several months, is not to return to this country, but will be succeeded here by Terashima Munenori, who was attached to the embassy which visited this city in 1871. He was a commissioner and afterwards a minister to England, and since he was recalled from the latter office, served as counselor of the Japanese government and governor of a province in Japan. Recently he has been president of the Japanese senate. He is an accomplished scholar and familiar with the English language. Mr. Yoshida has been transferred to a leading position in the foreign office of his government.

Newell's Charges Postponed.

House judiciary committee has decided not to investigate the charges of bribery in connection with the Texas Pacific land grant this session. When the letter from Newell was received last week the committee decided to give him a hearing to-morrow, but upon further investigation it has been decided not to do this. A member of judiciary committee said to-night: The man's charges are so loose, and they partake so much of lobby operations, that it has seemed to us that it would be unjust if he has the names of any former members of congress to give some of whom may now be dead, to give publicity to this matter just at the end of the session, when persons who might be accused would have no opportunity to reply. For that reason it has been decided to postpone any consideration of these charges until next winter. The charges consist in part of statements contained in papers left by R. N. Corwin, deceased, who was attorney for the Texas Pacific railroad, and for Tom Scott. Mr. Newell does not claim, however, to have possession of the papers, and it is said by those who ought to know that the story which Newell claims to be able to tell is the same which he submitted here in 1878, and which he offered to sell to Tom Scott for a consideration, but which the latter declined to purchase.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The senate bill to open for settlement a certain portion of the Ute Indian reservation in Colorado, which passed the house Saturday, and now awaits only the signature of the president to become a law, provides for the sale of these lands according to the usual terms regulating sale of public lands, and settle the title to all entries, settlements and locations heretofore made on these lands, under any law of the United States, providing that the rights of persons making them shall be in all respects the same as if the lands had been legally subject to their claims when presented.

A bill has recently been reported from the senate committee on printing providing for printing reports of the tenth census and appropriating $835,401 for the work. The committee recommended printing the usual number of the complete series of separate reports with 10,000 additional copies, 10,000 additional copies of the reports on population and agriculture, 10,000 of the report on manufactures and machinery and the usual number and 100,000 additional copies of the compendium, which it is thought will be of the most practical value for popular reference. In the report accompanying the bill the committee speak of the length of the census as "the most extensive and complete that has ever been taken, more comprehensive in its scope, and more minute in its details." They say its reports constitute a wonderful exhibition of the population resources, accumulated wealth and variety of industries of the country and in explanation of the action taken with regard to printing and distribution assert that the results of the work can be made available by general distribution among public libraries and to a considerable extent among individuals.

The democratic senate caucus this morning resolved upon discussion of all amendments to the tax bill and oppose any attempt to reach a final vote upon the bill unless ample opportunity was afforded.

A second democratic caucus discussion favored opposition of reduction on perfumery, patent medicines, etc., advising substantial reductions as directly benefiting the people and to discuss fully and put the parties on record. Caucus also determined to support Beck's amendment that all taxes and customs imposed by United States under present laws for collection of duties on imports from foreign countries shall be subject to a discount of 10 per centum after January 1, 1883, and to an additional discount of 10 per centum after July 1, 1883.

Senator Cameron of Wisconsin has reported from the committee on claims an amendment to the sundry civil bill to authorize the secretary of treasury to adjust and settle the claim of Charles Murphy for material for erection of United States appraiser's stores at San Francisco, and appropriating an amount for this purpose not exceeding $3000.

Alonzo Bell, assistant secretary of the interior, has resigned and Secretary Teller has recommended the appointment of Merrick S. Joslyn of Illinois.

Logan's Bill Postponed.

Senator Logan attempted, at the expiration of the morning hour in the senate to-day, to call up his bill to allow Chinese to land at ports of the United States to pass through the country on the way to China. The question before the senate is whether this bill shall be referred to the judiciary or foreign relations committees. Morrill, who has control of the revenue bill, said he would leave the question of reference to be voted on if there was no debate. Miller said there would be debate and Logan dropped the matter.

Star Route Trials.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—John A. Walsh testified in star route cases to-day. The loan of $540 made to Brady was in several installments. He paid A. C. Buell $100 by direction of Brady. Brady had a half interest in the Peterson draft. Witness believed J. J. Hines caused annulment of witness's contract, and [illegible] think Hines had really failed. He had secured $8000 to $9000 in remissions.

Bringing Over their Wives.

The steamship City of Tokio brought over 14 Chinese women and 3 children. The women were distinguished as being possessed of extremely small feet. One of the women is the wife of the resident Chinese consul and three others wives of the Chinese legation. The remainder are wives of prominent Chinese merchants in the city. These women were all allowed to land without detention, their respectability being vouched for by Colonel Bee, vice consul, and a number of other persons. The reason assigned by the Chinese consul for bringing over the women at this time is that they wish to take advantage of the restriction bill which will shortly go into effect.

VICTORIA, July 21.—The mail steamship Dakota sailed at 12 o'clock yesterday with the following passengers: R. Heirshfield, F. Penuema, T. Carroll, Master J. R. Onderdonk, D. S. McDonald, M. A. McDonald, M. Paul, O. Estinge and wife, Geo. Haynes.

The election for the house of commons to-day resulted in the choice of Baker, secretary of the board of trade, and Shakespeare, mayor of the city. DeCosmos, who has represented the city since 1871, was defeated by an enormous majority. His views in favor of independence, and other eccentricities, caused his defeat. The populace are parading the streets with torches and bands, shouting and cheering in honor of the victory.

The Victoria Election.

VICTORIA, July 22.—Last night did not pass without a scene of great disorder. At 8 o'clock a crowd of at least one thousand people bearing torches and headed by two bands of music, proceeded to the office of the Colonist, which they serenaded. After the editor had addressed the crowd a man threw an egg, which struck him on the head and bespattered people standing near him. The crowd rushed off to the office of the government newspaper and attempted to mob that establishment. They were beaten back by a strong posse of police, but again and again made rushes, which were frequently successful. The excitement continued till past midnight, when the noisy ones left for home. This afternoon a supporter of the opposition assaulted the egg thrower in the street, and beat him severely. The case will come up in the police court. More trouble is anticipated on Monday, when the elections for the local house will take place.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 25, 1882.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

The manner in which Great Britain obtained a proprietary interest in the Suez canal possesses interest at this time. Egypt had taken a large number of shares and was unable to meet her obligations upon them. Great Britain, under the ministry of Lord Beaconsfield, took these shares, or a large part of them. That is, she bought 176,602 shares out of 400,000, rated at £20 each, which make up the total capital. For these she paid £4,080,000 or about $20,000,000, and agreed further to receive but five per cent. interest on the investment until July 1, 1894, after which she is to receive a pro rata dividend on the earnings. Out of this five per cent. interest one and one-half per cent. on the investment is annually set aside as a sinking fund to meet the debt raised to purchase the shares. The receipts in 1881 represented more than twenty-five per cent. on the total capital of forty million dollars, and these are increasing at the rate of two millions a year. The income to England from this investment after 1894 will be very large; but however great it may be, it will be trifling in comparison with the incalculable benefit to English commerce arising from this great artery of communication with India and China.

It is apparent, indeed, that the whole civilized world is interested in the maintenance of the Suez canal, through which more than two-thirds of the steam tonnage of the world annually passes. The records show that in 1881, 2727 vessels, with a tonnage of 5,794,000, availed themselves of this short route between Europe and Asia. The receipts of tolls were $10,254,800. While England furnishes about four-fifths of the tonnage using this colossal improvement, its importance to those who supply the remainder is so great that no nation will seriously object to any means which England may find it necessary to adopt to prevent Arabi Bey from fulfilling his threat to destroy it.

The mere statement of these facts is sufficient to account for the support which the English people accord to their government in its action against Egypt. The respective rights of the sultan and khedive might well have been allowed to wait the slow settlement of diplomacy, but when Egyptian turmoil threatened the commercial relations of all Europe, it was conceded that the time for action had come, and that the line of the canal must be preserved at whatever cost of blood and treasure. Quite independently of this the bombardment of Alexandria may, however, be a subject of criticism, since there is a plausible argument that this act was not really necessary for protection of the canal.

THE WORK OF RIVALS.

It was hardly necessary to telegraph across the continent the blast against the Northern Pacific railroad from the Washington paper called the Critic. It might be supposed by some that the Critic was an important newspaper. It is, in fact, a diminutive sheet, about the size of two leaves of a book of Harper's Franklin Square series. It makes petty local matters about Washington its specialty, and is sold at one cent a copy. Such a paper would take no interest whatever in the affairs of the Northern Pacific railroad were it not prompted to do so by those who are striving to arrest the progress of this road so as to continue the Union and Central Pacific monopoly. This is the basis and inspiration of the prediction that the lands of the Northern Pacific will be declared forfeited by this or by the next congress. That this will actually be done we see no reason to suppose. Majorities of the house committees on railroads and judiciary have both declared against forfeiture; and though rival interests are indefatigable in their hostility, neither branch of congress shows an inclination to play into their hands. We believe the grant will stand. It would be the height of injustice to the country to allow roads which were built outright by the government to arrest a competing line, that they might perpetuate their own monopoly. In supporting the Northern Pacific we are not pleading for the company, but for the northwest for whose development this line is a necessity. Nothing could be more apparent than the fact that the story about Northern Pacific stocks was a device of the managers of rival enterprises to "bear" the Northern Pacific on the market and embarrass the company in its financial operations. But it is gratifying to observe that all these expedients have resulted in failure. By the next session of congress the road will be so nearly through that its enemies will have small chance to attack it before that body.

NATIONAL AID FOR COMMON SCHOOLS.

The problem of popular education, particularly in several of the southern states, where illiteracy is great and the means of maintaining schools limited, has brought out from half-a-score of statesmen as many plans of relief. That of Hon. Henry W. Blair, of New Hampshire, which involves direct appropriations of money from the national treasury, was recently considered by the senate in committee of the whole. This measure proposes to appropriate fifteen millions of dollars the first year, fourteen millions the second year, and afterward a sum diminishing one million yearly until there shall have been ten annual distributions, the last of which should be six millions, it being thought probable that state systems could by that time maintain themselves, or that from the perpetual fund bill, should that fortunately become a law, all the aid necessary could thereafter be derived. A bill drawn by Mr. Blair, involving his plan, has been reported by the senate committee on education and labor with its unanimous approval so far as the amount appropriated is concerned. As will be seen, the plan contemplates the gradual increase of ability and disposition to support schools as the natural consequence of greater intelligence, so that the appropriation and its necessity will pass away together.

Mr. Blair made a strong argument in favor of his bill. In a republican form of government, he argued, the sovereign is the whole body of the people; that a higher degree of intelligence is demanded on the part of the sovereign than in any other form of government. It is certainly true that nothing but virtue and intelligence can save a republic from ending in despotism, corruption and anarchy. The governing power must know how to govern, or it cannot govern. The national government has a right and duty to preserve itself, and intelligent citizenship is indispensable to self-preservation. "Not to educate is to destroy. The United States, under the constitution, guarantees to every state in this union a republican form of government. Through grim visaged war it has been called to do this in the past. Is not the ounce of prevention worth the pound of cure? Does not the duty to guarantee imply the right to prevent and preserve, even more strongly than to recover and restore? Prevention might be possible, when restoration would prove to be impossible. Universal intelligence never makes war. Only ignorance is convertible into brute force. But for ignorance among the nominally free, there would have been no rebellion.

Great Britain learned the secret of power from the defeat which gave us independence more than a century ago. Since then she has not lost a province; she has annexed the world. How? She has tied her cables to the commerce of every clime, and wherever she sends her ships she carries her institutions and her laws. She has learned that if she cultivates the individual citizen and rules in harmony with the impulses of the human soul, she is sure of empire. Great Britain is aiming to compel the education of every child covered by the jurisdiction of her flag. The gist of Mr. Blair's argument is, paramount to the schools is death to the republic. Common school education must become universal, or the form of government must be changed; national aid to schools is indispensable to the national existence; national aid to the common schools should be given liberally, given now, and applied where most required."

While intended particularly for the poorer states, the appropriation, according to Mr. Blair's plan, will be distributed to all states according to their illiteracy as reported by the census bureau. In the distribution of the $15,000,000 as proposed, Oregon would receive $16,875.50, the number of illiterates in the state being 5,376. Provision is made in the bill for the administration of the fund by the concurring action of the state and national authorities, each having a negative upon the other, and both intended to one common end, the most judicious application of the money. Senator Blair's plan is a good one, so far as it goes; but before congress votes away so large a sum as one hundred and five millions of dollars it should know how it is going to be spent. It is not safe to leave the matter of its disbursement to boards of education, national, state or local, without programme or check. It is the interest of the nation and the states to teach their citizens how to read and to write, and the simple forms of business. Further than that, education is properly a personal matter. There will be no objection to Mr. Blair's measure; in fact, it will be ardently supported when it is made complete by practical regulations for expenditure of the money it appropriates.

A San Francisco paper says: "Last month, it appears, the freight rates for hardware and all manner of iron goods from New York to San Francisco were advanced from $89 60 per ton to $131 40 per ton. But shippers who will bind themselves to send no goods round the Horn (which is the only competing route, the Pacific Mail company being paid an annual subsidy by the railroads to "stand in" with them) are charged but $56 per ton. The object of this pretty arrangement is, of course, to drive off the clipper ships altogether. A few large firms, it seems, are holding out against this monstrous exaction at what a sacrifice is readily seen. When the same kind of goods are brought here by two firms, one of which is taxed $134 40 per ton, and the other only $56, it is obvious sooner or later the former house must submit or break. If they submit the clipper ships, which have already been forced to surrender everything that the railroads could wrest from them by practices similar to the one in question, will be taken off the Horn route, and then the railroads, utterly without competition, can do entirely as they please. What they will please to do may be inferred from their method of obtaining the power to do it. All freight rates will be instantly advanced and the price of everything that comes over the roads will jump up out of reach from any lower standpoint than the summit of Nob Hill." This applies to Portland as well as to San Francisco.

By a report of the silk association of America, it appears that the manufacture of silk goods has now attained the highest point it ever reached in the United States. The goods are all made out of imported raw silk, of which millions of pounds are imported annually. The value of the article in 1881-2 amounted to $13,179,898, and the value of the manufactured goods was about $35,000,000. There are now 319 factories in America engaged in silk manufacture. The quality of the fabric is fully up to that made abroad, and all the old prejudice against American silk is fast passing away. Still, a vast amount of imported goods is sold in the American market, about double in value that manufactured in this country. Raw silk manufacture has not yet amounted to much in this country. Experiments in that direction have been made on a small scale for the past 150 years, but never attained any remarkable success. About 1000 pounds a year is now produced in Utah, half as much in Kansas, and a small quantity in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, California and a few other states; but this country will probably never be able to compete with Asia in raw silk culture, where labor is so cheap.

The summer meeting of the Northwestern District Agricultural society which closed Saturday was successful in all respects except financially. The attendance of horses was large and composed of the best blood on the coast and the events were fairly conducted and notable. The purses were paid promptly and only the stockholders suffer, and they not severely as the deficit was trifling. Two instances of mistaken policy may be credited with the failure of the receipts to equal the expenditures. The meeting was not properly advertised and the programme of races was so arranged that the first of the four days of the meeting was an "off day" and attracted nobody. The lesson of the deficit to the managers of the association is that class journals without circulation or standing are not good mediums for advertising and that in a four days meeting every day should have its special attraction to fill the stands. This lesson they will doubtless heed and next year we hope to see their reward in a balance on the other side of the account.

Cincinnati is usually regarded as a slow and rather unprogressive city; but it may be doubted whether it ever had so great a "boom" in building as now. The report of the builders' exchange of the city, now passing through the press, shows that the amount of manufactured material used for building purposes during the past year aggregated from $12,000,000 to $18,000,000 in value. Blocks and French flats have been found to pay a high rate of interest, and capital is being put freely into them. In the city proper the old two and three story buildings are giving way to six and seven story structures, and suburbs which a few years ago were inhabited only by fashionable people have lost their exclusive character, and have become so overcrowded as to excite general complaint from their original residents.

It will surprise most people, says the New York Evening Mail, to know that the amount of death and endowment claims paid in this country last year, by life insurance companies, was $58,388,263, while the amount of losses paid by fire insurance companies was but $59,302,862. The fifty-three American life insurance companies, not including benefit societies, have paid claims amounting to $823,897,319 since their work began, and they have received in premiums $1,151,739,618. At the beginning of the year they held assets amounting to $468,541,789. The amount received is $330,842,299, larger than the amount paid, and the interest on receipts must be reckoned in estimating the profitableness of the business.

The salmon packers have not yet announced their purpose with reference to extending the fishing season. Badollet & Co., Kinney & Co., the Cooks, Booth & Co. and others of the larger firms have declared themselves in favor of closing operations at the usual time, and it is hoped that others will follow in their lead. Viewed from the selfish standpoint of policy it would seem the part of wisdom for the packers to quit fishing July 31st. Should they offend public sentiment in this matter, it will array itself against them in behalf of more stringent legislation, and in the end they will find themselves losers.

Gen. Barrios, president of the republic of Guatemala, who, as the telegraph reports, is now at Washington, is there upon a double errand. He wishes to obtain the influence and protection of this government in the disputed boundary question, which has long threatened to become a cause of war between his country and Mexico, and to ask the aid of the United States in the attempt to bring about the consolidation of the five Central American states into a single republic.

"The fact may as well be faced," says so staunch a republican paper as the New York Times, "that the only way to defeat Don Cameron and annihilate his bossism is to fight him and not make peace with him." This was said anent the efforts recently making to patch up a peace between the republican factions of Pennsylvania. The proper way is to allow no "boss" to acquire full office power. [illegible]

READ THE FOLLOWING ENDORSEMENTS!

Portland, Or., July [illegible], 1882.

We, the undersigned, representing different fire insurance companies doing business in this city, witnessed a fire on Saturday evening, June the 24th, by Mr. D. M. Dunne, of the firm of KELLY, DUNNE & CO., on a [illegible] shingled roof, painted with two coats of THE CALIFORNIA FIRE AND WATER PROOF PAINT CO'S PAINT. The roof was subjected to a strong fire, composed of dry kindlings saturated with coal oil, for TWENTY MINUTES. On clearing away the fire, the shingles were only charred. We strongly recommend it for shingled roofs, as we are satisfied that any roof painted with it will not catch fire from brands or any ordinary fire exposure.

A [illegible] TO [illegible] Wheeler who was charged with running away with $600 belonging to the firm of [illegible] was tracked by the police authorities through the valley to [illegible]. At [illegible] City he took the steamer Ancona to San Francisco [illegible] upon request of Chief of Police Lappeus was arrested upon his arrival. The prosecuting witness [illegible] neglected or refused to apply for a [illegible] to have Wheeler returned, and he was released by the San Francisco authorities.

L[illegible] MUST BE PAID.—Hereafter the [illegible] will not notify persons obliged to take out licenses of their failure to do so, but will arrest all who have not immediately after their licenses have expired. Too much leniency has heretofore been allowed in this matter, and the arrest of the banking firm last night is evidence that Chief Lappeus intends to enforce the city ordinances at least until the courts shall have declared them invalid.

THROUGH TO HAMBO'S RAPIDS.—Trains on the Northern Pacific now run regularly to Hambo's rapids, 144 miles east of Portland, and the track will be to Rock Island by Monday. The [illegible] Some idea of the work to be done between Rock Island and Missoula, besides grading, may be had from the fact that fourteen Howe truss bridges are required, to say nothing of many miles of trestle work and piling.

C[illegible] THISTLES.—The police have been instructed to bring in to headquarters a list of all persons who permit thistles to grow about their dwellings and yards, in violation of a city ordinance and in spite of a published notice to cut them down. Such persons will be given until the first of August to comply with the law, after which if the thistles still remain, they will be arrested and prosecuted.

KEEPS A GAMBLING HOUSE.—Henry Wallace was brought into Justice Greene's court yesterday afternoon on a charge of keeping a gambling house on First street near A. The complaint is made by Frank Winters, who says he was the victim of a "skin game." The defendant was arraigned for examination, but on motion of Mr Hewitt his counsel the case was continued until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WILL [illegible] LEAVE.—The Dakota sails from San Francisco for Victoria on the 27th and will leave for Alaska on or about August 2d. Passengers for the excursion in order to make connection should leave here Monday, July 31. Yesterday eight names were added to the list, three from San Francisco and five from this city: Mrs J C Carson, Miss Morgan, Wm Conner, David Whiting and Mr H uckley.

TO BE KEPT AS AN EXCURSION BOAT.—The steamer Henry Villard, which has done such good work in railway construction during the past year, will not be needed after August 1st on construction or for traffic, but she will be kept permanently on Lake Pend d'Oreille and the lower Clark's Fork for tourists and for local trade, which is likely to spring up about the lake at points not on the railroad.

MINOR CRIMINALITIES.—George Savarian and Ralph Holmes, two boys charged with stealing articles from burning buildings, were arraigned in the police court yesterday afternoon and their cases continued. Jim Petty, who stole a set of razors from Vigalius' shop and then peached on his companion in crime, was discharged on motion of the district attorney.

STATE STATIONERY CONTRACT.—M. Seller & Co. of this city have received the award for furnishing the state of Oregon with stationery, cutlery and cuspidores during the coming legislature. Their bid is $984. There will be lead pencils enough to supply all the school children in the state and a pocket-knife to sharpen every dozen pencils.

HEAVY CARGOES.—The Oregon, which arrived in yesterday, brings 127 cabin passengers and 152 in the steerage, and 2420 tons of freight, of which 115 tons are for Astoria. The Columbia on her last upward passage carried 2616 tons of freight, the largest cargo but one ever brought to Portland.

THE FIRST SHIPMENT.—Saturday the first car load of new wheat left Walla Walla for Portland, shipped by Dement Bros. Mr H M Chase of that city telegraphed yesterday that farmers were now in the midst of harvest and that the yield was better than first harvesting indicated.

TO AWAIT RECOVERY.—The case against Frank Burk and Charles Hanson, charged with waylaying and robbing Jacob Gerdes, has been postponed to await the recovery of the wounded man. He is slowly recovering his reason.

SALE OF PROPERTY.—The half block on the north side of Taylor street, between Tenth and Eleventh, was sold yesterday by E Myers to S G Skidmore for $11,000. It is one of the most excellent properties in that part of the city.

THE STEAMERS.—The Oregon crossed in at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and left for Portland at 6:30. She is due at 3 o'clock this morning. The Columbia arrived down at 10 A. M. and crossed out at 4 P. M.

LOW STAGE OF WATER.—The upper Willamette during the past ten days has fallen very fast and the O. R. & N. Co.'s steamers now ascend no farther than Fairfield, sixteen miles below Salem.

STEAM LAUNCH ASHORE.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

CORVALLIS, July 24.—The new steam launch Benton went ashore on south beach at Yaquina last Wednesday. She had just arrived from Portland, and was being towed in by the Kate and Ann. After crossing the bar the Benton steamed ahead without casting off the tow line, which became fouled in her propeller. There was a strong ebb tide. Both boats swung into the stream and the Kate and Ann cut the line. The Benton, in her disabled condition, drifted out over the bar, and was beached about two miles south of the harbor. The damage is light. She is now mounted on wheels and her owners expect to have her in the bay by Wednesday evening. Capt Alfred Berbe of Portland, H. Evans, Thos F French and a man from St Helens were aboard, but all were saved.

HIGH HAY HARVEST.

OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENCE.

OLEQUA, W. T., July 24.

Hay harvest is very nearly over in this section, and both yield and quality are superior to anything here ever known. Mr Wm Pumphrey has just finished putting away two hundred and fifty tons of the finest hay ever grown on his place, commencing on the 7th and finishing on the 22d, without a drop of rain upon it. Grain and root crops look remarkably well and promise unusual yields.

FRANK JAMES IN OREGON

The following from the East Oregonian settles all doubts as to the whereabouts of Frank James, the brother of Jesse, the notorious Missouri outlaw:

It is a true incident that Frank James, the notorious desperado, as he is reported to be, was recognized by a former schoolmate in Pendleton a few days ago. He came to Oregon to visit his uncle, who is a resident of Umatilla county. His old friend in boyhood was glad to see the man that is known the world over as the most reckless man on the face of the earth. When asked what he was doing here, he replied "very little of anything," and intimated that the destruction of the Ford boys was his object in life. He spoke of them having a body guard now, but before winter he promised to furnish them with a clay guard. He requested his friend, a prominent citizen of this county, not to call him by his right name and give him away. He came to Pendleton in the night and left soon in the morning. We are confident that there are men in Pendleton who talked with him. Letters have been received by gentlemen of our acquaintance from his mother, who speaks affectionately of her son Frank, and seemed to hope that he would avenge his brother's death. There is no doubt that Frank James has been driven to most of his desperate deeds, and at times he longs to be free from restraint, but the great excitement he undergoes makes life worth living and very interesting.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

ASTORIA, July 24.—A strong gale from the southward this morning [illegible] fishing boats at the mouth of the Columbia at an early hour this morning. First reports received stated that many lives were lost. By latest arrivals from [illegible] we learn that four boats were swamped and driven ashore on Sand Island. Two men only are known to have been drowned, one name unknown. The other was Alfred West, a Norwegian, aged [illegible]. He and his boat puller were capsized at 1 A. M. A PLEASING PICTURE

[illegible]

There is on the reservation a sawmill and grist [illegible] and a steam mill with planer, shingle machine [illegible]. This last mill has been run for several weeks at a time without any but Indians in charge. To a person who has been accustomed to looking on the Indian as a dirty, wandering vagabond [illegible] susceptible of civilizing influences [illegible] all this seemed little short of marvelous. I attended church with the agent and found the attendants well dressed, respectful and attentive [illegible] doubt that many of them were devout and sincere Christians. Their church would do credit to any country town. It is capable of seating 400 comfortably and there are [illegible] who give evidence of the sincerity of their profession by living good lives. TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 25, 1882.

NOT LOST.

Fret not because the promise of the buds
The fruit doth not fulfill;
Was not the hope and fragrance which they brought
To us a blessing still?

Nor count as lost the seed we sow in faith
Upon a barren land
And reap not. Doth not God the purpose know
And bless the sower's hand?

Spurn not the vow the eager spirit makes
That weak flesh cannot keep;
The ocean bubbles break, but underneath
There flows a current deep.

The buds that blossom not, the withered seed,
The vows we leave undone,
Are gems we drop; yet angels mark their fall,
And raise them to the crown.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Southern Oregon.

Coos county has at present but three paupers in charge.

The expenditures of Coos county last year were $25,518 80; income from all sources, $27,460.

Frank W. Knowles, who died suddenly at Empire City last week, was 50 years old, and came to this coast in 1849.

The new flouring mill being built on Rogue river by Trumble & Sons is approaching completion, and will be ready to do some grinding this season. Work has been commenced on the mill race.

The dwelling house of John Sizemore in Sam's valley, Jackson county, was burned on the 16th inst. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the sun igniting some matches lying on a window sill in the upper story, and the building, together with the woodshed, milkhouse and smokehouse and most of the furniture were burned, causing a loss of near $5000, without any insurance.

Jacksonville Sentinel: Quite a stir was created in Ashland last Saturday when the announcement was made that a change had been made in the postmastership of Ashland, A. P. Hammond having succeeded A. D. Helman to that office. A petition was in circulation to retain the old postmaster at last accounts, and as no official information has yet been received the matter is probably not yet fully settled. Mr. Helman is one of the oldest postmasters in the state, having served continuously at Ashland for the last 30 years, and the residents there say he has never failed in giving satisfaction as an official.

Washington Territory.

The Dayton delinquent tax list amounts to $428.

There are 800 children of school age in the Cheney district.

Mrs. Mary C. Downing, wife of George Downing, died at her home in Salem on the 22d inst., aged 57 years.

The total cost of the buildings and furniture of the Oakes hotel, Cheney, will be about $28,000. It will be ready for the accommodation of guests on the 1st of September.

There were eleven bids for building the new school house at Seattle, the lowest being $20,877 and the highest $28,[illegible]. The contract will be let and the work will proceed at once.

Marshal Field, of Chicago, Ill., is the heaviest tax payer in Spokane county. By this year's assessment roll he pays taxes on 13,760 acres, or $43,305. The land lies in the south and eastern part of the county.

There are at present 8 women and 22 men as patients in Providence hospital, Seattle. The Sisters expect to get into their new building by the middle of October. They will then be able to accommodate 100 patients.

A. J. Stevens, school superintendent of Spokane county, is under bonds to answer to the charge of libel at the next term of the district court on complaint of M. Calleway. The case grew out of the publication of a revocation of Calleway's teacher's certificate on the ground of immoral habits.

There are 75 prisoners in the United States prison on McNeil island, two miles from Steilacoom. Nine of these are incarcerated for selling whisky to Indians, two for robbing the mails and two for murder. During the day time the men are occupied out of doors, in the garden, making shingles, etc.

Dayton has just about completed a new engine house, 30x50 feet, two stories high. The upper story will be used as a council chamber and as offices for the marshal and clerk. A bell tower with arched openings, neat bracket cornice and tin dome surmounted with a flag-staff, rises from the center.

The following persons have been chosen teachers in the Salem public schools for the ensuing year: East Salem, G. A. Peebles, Miss Addie Scriber, Miss Gabie Clark; North Salem, J. A. Sellwood, Miss Emily Hunter; South Salem, M. G. Lane, Miss Annie McNary; central, H. B. Ellworthy, Miss Bertha Moores; little central, Miss Marie D'Arcy, Miss Lizzie Dearborn; second primary, Miss Anna McNary.

Columbia Chronicle: E. B. Burk, attorney for Miss Cora E. Wilson, has shown us extracts from the ruling of the commissioner of the general land office, on her appeal from the action of the local land office in rejecting her pre-emption D. S. for the tract of land near Pomeroy so long in contest between her and Martha J. Pomeroy. Mrs. Pomeroy contested and finally had canceled Miss Wilson's timber culture entry on the tract for her failure to comply with the strict letter of the timber culture laws. When the final notice of the cancellation was received, Mrs. Pomeroy having re-married, Miss Wilson forwarded her D. S. for the same land, which was rejected by the local officers because Mrs. Pomeroy had 30 days in which to make application under the rule; but having married she could not enter it, but relinquished her preferment to W. C. Potter, whose entry was allowed. Burk held that Mrs. Pomeroy lost her identity when she re-married, and that Miss Wilson being the first applicant had the prior right of entry, which views were sustained by the commissioner on the appeal. W. C. Potter has sixty days in which to appeal from this decision.

Cheney Sentinel: The first installment of the Great Western Colony under the presidency of Dr. Hoyt of Orleans, Nebraska, arrived in Cheney on Friday and went into camp east of town. The party numbers something over 200. They are now looking for locations out in the Bend country, and express themselves as satisfied with their new homes. They are for the most part a sturdy, intelligent looking class of people, and are most welcome. The colony left Nebraska June 1st, coming by rail to the terminus of the Utah Northern and from there by team over the Mullan road through Missoula and down Clark's fork. The trip by wagon consumed 32 days, and was a tedious course through a mountainous country. The special rates secured over the railroads were very low and enabled the colony to come through at an outlay surprisingly small. Each passenger cost $25, each horse $17 50, and each wagon $17. Dr. Hoyt started immediately for Nebraska to bring another party of 300. When the party arrived at the camping place several of the citizens of Cheney met and extended a cordial welcome to the worthy immigrants. They were addressed by Judge Lewis, T. H. Springer, M. G. Barney and L. E. Kellogg upon the general characteristics of the country and its future outlook.

The following is a description of a salmon trap built by Indians near the mouth of the Spokane river. The Indians have built a solid net work of willow twigs from one bank to the other. Poles were first placed in position some four feet apart upright, [illegible] willow twigs were woven until across a distance of 80 yards there is but a hole large enough to admit the passage of a good sized salmon. This weir is built in such a way that it forms a V, the point down stream. At either bank small wicket doors are hinged in the weir. The salmon comes up the stream and follows one or the other of the sides of the V up to the door, pushing with his nose all the time against the willows. The door opens as he pushes against it and passes through into a small pen and the force of the current closes the door again, ready for the next comer. It is then an interesting sight to see the small boys get into that pen with their spears and take out the salmon. Sometimes as much as 1000 pounds are taken daily, during a good run, and fish may be seen in the pens at any minute. The fish are cut into slices [illegible] and hung over poles to be smoked and dried. The smoking process is only used to keep the flies from the insects while the drying process [illegible].

Idaho.

A well furnished emigrant train of seven wagons passed through Boise on Tuesday afternoon. They are in search of farm sites in the territory.

A colony of sixty families, from Kansas and Missouri, will take a settlement in one of the valleys of the Weiser. The advance teams of the party have already reached their destination.

A prospector, arriving in Hailey last Friday reported that the ledge [illegible] the "Morning Star" claim had been cut by an incline shaft, at a depth of 25 feet. It was found to carry solid milling ore assaying from $200 to $300 per ton.

Idaho Statesman: Dr. Burdge was over from his ranch on the Payette last week. He says he is 70 years old, has planted and cultivated 12 acres of corn that looks as fine as he ever raised in Iowa. He also has two acres of beans, two acres of potatoes and ten acres of good wheat. In addition to his other work he has built 2½ miles fence this summer [illegible] the work. His crops all look well [illegible] irrigating and good cultivation.

Some of the specimens recently received at the Hailey depot, to be forwarded to the Denver exposition, are marvelously rich. The Jay Gould mine sends from 200 to 300 pieces of solid gray copper galena ore, showing native silver in all its various forms. A chunk of yellow carbonate and galena ore from the Philadelphia company's West Fork mine has also been received, weighing 250 pounds. Last week seven cases of Jay Gould, four of Mayflower, one of Ophir and Bullion, and one of Eureka specimens, were received. They weighed 2½ tons. One of the boxes, containing a solid chunk of galena, which showed a three-inch streak of gray copper and much native and wire silver, was opened for a short time to give the crowd that had congregated an opportunity to see it. It is a wedge-shaped piece, about 20 inches thick at one end and 14 or 15 at the other, and it will probably assay 500 ounces to the ton. It weighed 360 pounds. The Jay Gould specimens are all very rich, assaying from 500 to 2000 ounces.

A FOOL ONCE MORE.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, and she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

Worse than blowing out the gas: Did you hear the story of the man in a hotel who meddling with the old style of bell rope in bedrooms to see what it was, rang it unknowingly and a servant appeared? There ain't no bell here?" Then the servant explained the bellrope and left. After he had gone the man thought he would try the bellrope just for fun. He gave it a terrific pull, and just then the gong rang for dinner, and thinking he had created an awful catastrophe down stairs he was greatly alarmed, locked and bolted his door, and sat up all night expecting the arrival of the police.—Hotel Mail.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 24.—The board of agriculture gives the following estimates from 1,120 reports from correspondents. Fruit is compared with the full crop of 1880, and other crops with July of last year. Wheat, 100 per cent., or 39,283,000 bushels against 37,581,000 last year; corn, 90 per cent., or 56½ million bushels against 74 millions in 1881 and 85½ millions in 1880; barley 90 per cent., oats 112, timothy hay 131, clover 97, pastures 123, potatoes 137; tobacco 85, apples 37, pears 40, peaches 38, grapes 84. Corn, though 90 per cent. of last year, is only 60 per cent. of a full crop, even with good weather from now on. June 1st apples promised 66 per cent.; they have fallen badly and are still falling, and may not make one fourth a crop. Weather during the past week, and wheat nearly all harvested in prime condition. The berry is plump and straw bright. Oats are beginning to rust some. Weather is now fine for corn and oats.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

THE BARLOW ROAD.

THE MT. HOOD AND BARLOW ROAD COMPANY having recently purchased the franchise of the old Barlow Road Company, announce that the road across the Cascade Mountains is open for all kinds of travel. The company having reconstructed a large road from Sandy P. O. to the Toll Gate up the south bank of the river Sandy, the travel will be able to avoid the long, tedious route over the "Devil's Backbone," and the five miles of heavy sand on the old road.

The bridges are all in good repair, and all the heavy hills are graded. The company are spending large amounts of money on the road, and will spare no pains nor expense in making it as the best road over the Cascade Mountains in this State. Supply stations with provisions at the Toll Gate, Summit Prairie and White River. Tolls reasonable.
